Guidelines to formulate the Report

To formulate the Bureau Goals and Objectives the following shall be completed:

- Have a bureau staff meeting(s), workshop and or retreat, which will be used to develop goals, objectives, and critical tasks.
- Additionally, information will be used to complete the bureau end-of-year report and program appraisals. At a minimum, these meetings shall include all bureau members involved with the Bureau and/or program.

- Keep minutes of the meeting and who was involved. These minutes must be attached to the Bureau Report and the formal documented program appraisals, which are due by February 5.

Meet with the personnel under your command and define the following:

- The expectations of the Bureau Supervisor.
- Each individual's role in the bureau.
- Each individual's responsibility in the bureau.
- A clear explanation on how their personal performance is to be measured.
- Are job descriptions remaining relevant and do employees have input?
- Do administrative support staff members have adequate training and education in order to perform their roles and responsibilities?

Did you accomplish what you set out to do?

What worked well? What didn't work well?

Discuss any program(s) under the bureau and its effectiveness. How can you make it better?

Evaluate the present administrative and related operational processes to make improvements in hierarchy, communications and related reporting structures.

What do you plan to do in the upcoming year?

What are the bureau goals for the upcoming year?
